CAMPAIGN NEWS: Marilyn brings 50s glamour to recycling campaign

Published:

Marilyn Monroe is a big hit in the B2B digital world. Thanks to agencies JDI and Blue Ribbon Digital she has achieved click-through rates (CTR) of 13.55 per cent for recycling company RockTron.

In a joint venture the agencies used the 50s starlet to front a campaign for RockTron. The digital element of the campaign saw a CTR 135 times greater than the industry average of 0.1 per cent for a flash advertisement.

The campaign is designed to raise awareness and promote discussion around RockTron's new recycling technology. RockTron says its new technology, to transform coal-fired power station waste into valuable eco-minerals, was expected to fail and just like Monroe it proved critics wrong.

The campaign, which has also been run in RockTron prove critics wrong in digital campaign print, encourages viewers to visit a microsite. Matthew Greene (MD of BRD) and Duncan Richardson (MD of JDI) said, "We're confident that our unique blend of integrated traditional and digital represents the future."
